To Whom It May Concern,

The Missing Link was engaged by Atlassian to perform a code-assisted web application penetration test of the Focus Cloud application. Focus is a strategic portfolio management product built on the Atlassian platform. It is designed to enable leaders to track how goals, work, teams, and funds align with the organisation's strategies.

The objectives of the engagement were to identify exploitable vulnerabilities, subvert standard workflows, gain unauthorised access to the application, sensitive information, or user generated content, and attempt an underlying server compromise.

Automated and manual penetration testing was performed by one security consultant between the 4th of February and the 20th of February 2025 in the cloud staging environment. A white-box methodology was followed, with full access to the relevant repositories, development guides, and the Focus engineering team to ask questions of.

Sincerely,
